

IMPORTANT MESSAGE FROM CCRA

As the situation in the Middle East continues, we want to be sure you have access to the latest airline updates.

Many of our preferred airline partners are providing information on a daily basis. Their messages can be found on our website <http://air.ccra.com> under the “Notices and Information” column on the right side of the screen.

Please review the information posted on our website before reaching out to the airline. In some cases, there are waiver codes posted that can be used without contacting or communicating with the airline.

Our server refreshes the files posted on our website every hour, so that you always have access to the most updated information. If you log in and don't see the PDF's, it means that the server is in the middle of a refresh. Wait 2-3 minutes and log in again, the files will magically reappear.
